

LeBauer HeartCare at Burlington proudly welcomes Timothy J. Gollan, MD, PhD
to our nationally respected team of cardiac experts.

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts Medical School, Dr. Gollan completed a residency in internal medicine and a fellowship in cardiology at Stanford University Medical Center. He has extensive experience with cardiac and vascular imaging and is board-certified in cardiology, nuclear cardiology and internal medicine.

Dr. Gollan and his wife are residents of Burlington. He looks forward to getting reacquainted with the many patients he has cared for in Burlington and to welcoming new patients as well. "I am delighted to be 'coming home' and look forward to spending the rest of my career in the Burlington area," he says.

ACCEPTING NEW PATIENTS.
