

Medical care for your whole family.....close to home.

Portsmouth Family Physicians provide patient-centered quality medical care for the entire family...from infants to the elderly. Family physicians have the unique opportunity to treat the whole person and develop long-term relationships with their patients.

Family physicians treat patients with:

- Chronic conditions such as diabetes, asthma and heart disease
- Urgent care appointments
- Ear, nose and throat care
- Minor surgical procedures and office gynecologic procedures
- Mental and behavioral health care
- Bone and joint care
- Preventive care through annual physicals and health promotion
- Pregnancy, newborn and pediatric care

Research shows that people who have an ongoing relationship with a primary care physician have better overall health.

EVMS Health Services is the not-for-profit physician group supporting Eastern Virginia Medical School (EVMS). Over 150 physicians specialize in family and internal medicine, obstetrics, medical and surgical specialties as well as radiation oncology, laboratory and pathology services.

The EVMS Health Services focus is patient-centered quality care. Our Chief Quality Physician, family physician Richard Bikowski, MD leads our efforts by working in partnership with all EVMS Health Services physicians to develop care plans that are tailored to reduce symptoms and improve quality of life.

As you would expect from an academic medical practice where physicians and technology are the most up-to-date, Portsmouth Family Medicine utilizes electronic medical records and offers their patients an opportunity to create their own Personal Health Record. This tool allows you to request an appointment or a prescription refill on-line and request and receive the latest updates on medical conditions of interest to you. Electronic Medical Records and Personal Health Records are two of the tools we use to practice medicine that is safe, effective, patient-centered, timely, efficient, and equitable.
