

LHC annual meeting on tap for Thursday

By Enterprise Staff

Livingston HealthCare will host its annual meeting Thursday night.

The meeting, which is open to the public, includes a report on the health care group's fiscal status from 2009 and an update on LHC's efforts to build a new medical campus.

Dr. Nick Wolter, chief executive officer for Billings Clinic, will speak about what role his organization will play in the future of LHC, according to a press release from LHC.

Elections for two positions on LHC's Board of Directors also are on the agenda.

Running unopposed for re-election to their seats are board members Annamarie DeYoung and Joe Swindlehurst.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. in the Yellowstone Room of the Best Western Yellowstone Inn.

For more information, contact Sandi Marlowe at 823-6262.