

HONORS

LHC noted for its diabetes care

Livingston HealthCare's Diabetes Education program has been awarded continued recognition from the American Diabetes Association. Livingston HealthCare received the award for the high-quality patient education that is an essential component of effective diabetes management.

LHC's Certified Diabetes Educator is Kim Quesenberry, RN.

The ADA's Education Recognition Certificate assures that educational programs meet the National Standards for Diabetes Self-Management Education Programs.

For more information about Livingston HealthCare's diabetes self-education program, call 222-2690 or visit livingstonhealthcare.org.